HOW DID "PIPE SCHOOL" START?

Several years ago a professional engineer at Trinity Products was searching for CEU's for himself. He mentioned the challenges of finding Continuing Education Seminars that offered overall knowledge related to pipe manufacturing and welding, as well as truly relevant information on the types of jobs Trinity was working on. Realizing that Trinity could also benefit from gaining an understanding of the ever-changing and expanding needs of its customers, "Pipe School" was born.

We are fortunate to find experts willing to come together and share their wealth of knowledge in steel manufacturing. Since 2009, we have continued our efforts to bring this knowledge to the professional engineers and contractors who are our customers.
